Specific knowledge for the Broadcasting industry

Nexum is an Italian Telecommunication company operating on TV and Radio broadcasting systems. The long experience in this field, makes Nexum expert in the design, system integration, installation and commissioning of small and large FM, DAB, ATV & DTV Networks, including satellite and terrestrial radio links.

A state of art installation pays for itself:

- | | | | |
|--|---|--|---|
|
Increases system efficiency |
Increases network coverage |
Reduces downtimes |
Reduces the equipment repair |
|
Reduces maintenance |
Increases equipment lifespan |
Protects from lightning |
Increases signal quality |

Savings due to state of the art installation are huge!

Installation and commissioning should be executed in accordance with the best practice, otherwise telecommunication equipment will not fully operate at their theoretical performances. Therefore, keeping your network upgraded to the state of art technology is recommended but an optimized installation and tuning is mandatory otherwise part of your investment will be useless.

Provision of equipment and installation materials

During the development of new systems, Nexum usually suggests a list of recommended equipment and installation materials locally sourced (when available) or provides them at very competitive prices. Nexum long-term knowledge of global market allows us to offer solutions to our customers with the highest quality/price ratio.

Nexum provides support to broadcasters for the development of small gap fillers up to very large systems. Our list of services includes:

- › Installation
- › Site surveys
